To Nineteen-Fifteen.

"All's well that ends well" so they say.
The year's been pleasant to me anyway.

The Courier, of Evansville has a good large head line over an article relative to a noted revivalist and it reads "Catholics May Pray For Billy Sunday!" Why not? Catholics have been praying for everybody for more than eighteen centuries.

Colonel Jouett Henry, of Hopkinsville, has been appointed assistant adjutant-general for Kentucky by Governor Stanley. The Colonel and Mrs. Jouett will remove to Frankfort about the first of January. This is a case where the man honors the appointment and the appointment honors the man.

A telegram from New York states that eight men were indicted by the federal grand jury upon the charge of conspiracy to foment strikes in American munition factories. Among the number is a former congressman, by the name of H. Robert Fowler, of Illinois. Can it be possible that this is our old friend Robert Fowler, of Elizabethtown, Illinois, just above the fluor spar mines on the Ohio river and he was always such a good man too.

It is so easy for Governor Stanley to select his staff of Colonels here in Kentucky. In the old days when one lined up in an irrigating room and remarked: "Colonel" have one with me," the Kentucky colonels standing around always filled the room. Of course there are Colonels and colonels, yet Huston Orme would look mighty well in a feathered Chapeau and the blue and gold. Somehow it seems he belongs on the Governor's staff. "Colonel Orme" sounds good to us down here in Western Kentucky.

Few people appreciate the value of health until they have lost it. Few know the importance of building for health and strength until infirmity forces this truth upon them.

Most men try to develop themselves in their strong points and neglect, if they do not entirely ignore their weak ones. Pay more attention to your weak points and the good ones will come very near taking care of themselves.

The man who works six days in the week should look forward to Sunday at home as his chief reward for doing so. The good wife adapts all things to his humor as far as possible.

A man who marries a woman for her looks loves her for one year; who marries for wealth, loves her two years; who marries for her ways, loves her forever.

If we could lift the veil that conceals the future, how disappointed some of us would be.

Tact is seeing things as the other man sees.

Tact is putting yourself in the other fellow's place.

True heroism is to fight your own battles in life, and win.

The most important thing to win in life is to win out.

The night has many eyes, the day but one.

The light of life dies when love is not won.

A man is father to his ambition and brother to his deeds.

War Upon Pain!

Pain is a visitor to every home and usually it comes quite unexpectedly. But you are prepared for every emergency if you keep a small bottle of Sloan's Liniment handy. It is the greatest pain killer ever discovered. Simply laid on the skin—no rubbing required—it drives the pain away. It is really wonderful.

Mervin H. Soister, Berkeley, Cal., writes: "Last Saturday, after tramping around the Panama Exposition with wet feet, I came home with my neck so stiff that I couldn't turn. I applied Sloan's Liniment freely and went to bed. To my surprise, next morning the stiffness had almost disappeared, four hours after the second application I was as good as new."

Birthday Dinner.

It is usually the custom for older people to dread the coming of a birthday, but when the birthday brings pleasant surprises one almost wishes they would come oftener. Thus it was with Mrs. Eliza Deboe. First was the fact that her only child had come home from school for her vacation. Although she knew that she had the honor of having Christmas day for a birthday she had expected nothing else. Xmas morning Mrs. Wilson, at whose house she is now making her home began to hustle around. The dining room soon found itself wrapped in decorations. Hardly had Mrs. Deboe begun to solve this until Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Deboe drove up with several well-filled baskets. Next came Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lamb with loads of good things to eat and presents for all. The last to arrive were Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Lamb. The old saying was quite true—the last were by no means least, for the baskets were filled to overflowing. The dining room and table were beautifully decorated in Xmas colors and the dinner was a real Xmas dinner. The variety of this dinner was its charm. There were five different kinds of meats, ten of cakes and eighteen of pies, besides the accustomed Xmas dinner.

Mrs. Deboe's presents were pretty and well chosen. All who were there greatly enjoyed the feast and the good time Mrs. Wilson showed them in her own hospitable way, and Mrs. Deboe wished her fifty-sixth birthday would come every day.
